THE DAFFODIL FARM

OLYMPIA, WASH., R4.

Yes, it seems certain the early buyer will get the bulbs this season. At the time this is being written for printing it appears there will be no bulbs from Holland so there is very apt to be a shortage of all bulbs, especially Tulips, Hyacinths, Iris, Crocus and many others.

In any event it is best to play safe and order early as possible. When our supply is sold that will be the end, for we have no assurance at this time that we can replenish our supply from other growers. Many of the varieties we list are limited and in ordering Tulips especially it would be well to give a second choice. We will not substitute unless you say to do so.

Possibly due to a mild winter our bulb crops are exceptionally well grown this season, and those who have bot of us in the past know you will receive good bulbs. We take this chance to thank all who sent us orders last year and wish you to know this patronage was greatly appreciated. We will do the best we can to supply your orders this season in a manner that will please you.

GUARANTEE—We guarantee all stock true to name and free of disease and to please you on arrival. Further than this we cannot go, for we have no control over your climate or growing conditions. If for any reason you are not pleased with shipments, notify us at once.

PRICES POSTPAID—unless otherwise stated. Cash or 25% with order and balance c. o. d. Stamps with small orders welcome. 6 bulbs of one variety at dozen rate.

DAFFODILS

The entire Daffodil family

The above picture shows the grading system of commercial growers. From left to right, a mother bulb with offsets or slabs attached; a compact double nose bulb having two or more blooming centers; a round or single nose bulb having one blooming center only; and a slab or offset removed from a mother bulb, many of these will bloom. The original bulb of each variety came of course from a seedling, which do not come true from seed; this seedling requires about 6 years to bloom, then the entire supply of this one variety is propagated from this one selected seedling, if you live long enough.

We start shipping bulbs about September 1st to October 15th or later if not sold out, but advise ordering early as possible, planting early in September to insure heavy root growth before cold weather. Plant 6 to 7 inches deep in good soil and about that distance apart, and may be left 2 or 3 years. Dig daffodils after tops die down. The names Daffodil and Narcissus are the same, one being English and the latter the Latin spelling, never liking Latin I use the name daffodil. Jonquils belong to the daffodil family but have rush-like foliage, except the hybrids.

FOLLOWING PRICES POSTPAID. DN. means large double nose bulbs having two or more flower buds. SN. means single nose or round bulbs having one flower center.

HYACINTHS

For early spring beauty, the fragrant Hyacinths cannot be excelled and should be hardy anywhere. Extra large bulbs are best for forcing, but for outside-planting we offer you medium size bulbs that will give the most graceful blooms that will stand wind and rain much better than those from extra large bulbs. If no Hyacinths are imported they will be very scarce, and due to this fact we cannot list several kinds as we would like to do. Plant 5 or 6 inches deep and that distance apart.

1940 BULB BARGAINS

For years we have offered a few varieties of Daffodil bulbs in five and ten pound packages of one variety. This has proved very popular, from the large number of orders received and the numerous letters of appreciation. Those wishing a fine display of one or more varieties will find these packages the cheapest and most practical way to buy them. These bulbs are ungraded as to size and shape, commonly called planting stock. Only good sound bulbs are included, 90 per cent or more will bloom, giving 100 to 125 blooms from 10 pounds. We regret we cannot offer more varieties this way.

Prices Express Collect.

Emperor, a fine all yellow large trumpet variety.

5 pounds for $1.00; 10 pounds for $1.75.

TULIPS

For several reasons the Tulip continues to be top ranking spring flowering bulb. Chief reasons for their popularity are their wide range of color and their long blooming period. Other factors contributing to their place in our affections is their usefulness both as bedding plants and cut flowers and the reasonable ease of their culture.

Tulips are scarce this year and it will be impossible for us to buy more after our own stock has been exhausted, so the early birds will be the ones who will get what they are looking for this year. Better give a second choice.

Plant 4 to 5 inches deep in good soil and about 6 inches apart, in September if possible. May be left two years.

The list of Tulips on the next page are good blooming size bulbs. For smaller blooming bedding size see special offers on colored insert.

Remember, early planting for best flowers and bulbs.
